 NURSE CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

Self-Assessment Tool for Level 3 Certification in Pediatric Nursing

Name of Candidate: _____

Hospital of current employment: _____

Introduction: A nurse Candidate who seeks to be certified as a specialist in Pediatric Nursing, Level 3, will have to accomplish this self-assessment form and prepare the needed evidence to show proof of competence. Upon accomplishment of the form, the candidate will discuss the data and the evidence with his/her immediate supervisor for validation. It may be necessary to revise responses based on this discussion. The Candidate then submits to the Committee on Assessment and Certification the validated self-assessment tool and supporting evidence for review and assessment by the Independent Assessors, who will determine competency or recommend development opportunities.

This Self-Assessment Tool is both formative and summative. As such it provides information as to the areas and levels of competency of the Candidate with respect to the standard performance criteria. It also informs on competency gaps and therefore provides the Candidate with leads on which learning and development interventions he/she should undertake.

Instructions: The second column in the table lists behavioural indicators that determine successful/outstanding performance in the workplace. In order to provide a calibrated picture of the Candidate's proficiency at demonstrating these behaviors, the tool uses a three-point rating scale that indicates frequency (consistency) of demonstrating a behaviour in a given situation at the workplace.

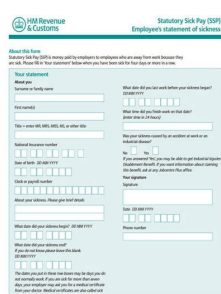

After accomplishing the Self-Assessment Tool, take it for discussion and validation to your Immediate Supervisor, with the accompanying evidence to prove statements of competence. Refer to the Assessment Guide for the list of evidences. Submit the validated tool and evidence to the Committee on Assessment and Certification.

Indicate with a tick mark in the corresponding box areas in the hospital where you are currently assigned (most of the time) to provide nursing services:

What to do next

- 1 Give your employer a copy of this form as soon as you can if you are on SSP.
- 2 Keep a copy for your own records.
- 3 If you can get SSP your employer will give you a form every time you get your wages.
- 4 If you cannot get SSP your employer will give you the SSP form every time you get your wages. You will not get SSP if you have the payment made through a payment agency or a payment intermediary. If you have the payment made through a payment agency or a payment intermediary, you will not get SSP.
- 5 If you are not sure what your employer's decision you can get HM Revenue & Customs for a decision about your entitlement.

However, this will also depend on your employer's company policy on sick leave (or sickness absence). If your employer doesn't have its own form you can download the Self Certification Form. Please print it, fill it in and hand it in to your employer. If your employer doesn't have its own form you can download this Self Certification Form (PDF). Please print it, fill it in and hand it in to your employer. If you have been ill for 7 days or less you don't need to see a Doctor. Your employer can ask you to confirm that you've been ill. We'd like to set additional cookies to understand how you use GOV.UK, remember your settings and improve government services. For more information see: If you have been ill for 7 days or less you don't need to see a Doctor. Most employers ask for a fit note from your GP. This policy should tell you how many days you can be off sick before you need to provide proof of illness or a fit note. Statement of Fitness for Work - 'Fit Note' The 'fit note' was introduced on 6 April 2010. Your employer may however require you to complete a self-certification form (SC2) which is available from your employer or on the HMRC website. With your employer's support, the note will help you return to work sooner by providing more information about the effects of your illness or injury. However some employers insist on a Doctor's note regardless. A Doctor's note under these circumstances involves a charge. Evidence that you are sick If you are sick for more than seven days, your employer can ask you to give them some form of medical evidence to support payment of SSP (statutory sick pay). If you have been ill for 7 days or less you don't need to see a Doctor. Download a Self Certification Form (PDF) However some employers insist on a Doctor's note regardless. A Doctor's note under these circumstances involves a charge of £15. We also use cookies set by other sites to help us deliver content from their services. Self Certification Form (PDF) We use some essential cookies to make this website work. You do not require a doctor's sickness certificate for any illness lasting seven days or less. However some employers insist on a Doctor's note regardless. A Doctor's note under these circumstances involves a charge of £35.00. You do not need to see a Doctor. If your employer has any doubts, they may still ask for a medical certificate from your GP. You can do this by filling in a form yourself when you return to work. We are not issuing sick notes for those patients with coronavirus. If you're sick and off work for more than seven days, your employer will probably ask for proof of your illness. Your employer will decide whether or not this evidence is acceptable. Please note if you need to provide evidence to your employer that you need to stay at home due to coronavirus, you will be able to get this from the NHS 111 Online instead of having to get a fit note from your doctor. If your employer doesn't have its own form you can download this Self Certification Form (PDF). Please print it, fill it in and hand it in to your employer. A Doctor's note under these circumstances may involve a charge. This is called self-certification. Many employers have their own self-certification forms. You could also provide evidence from someone who is not a medical practitioner, e.g. a dentist. For more information visit the Gov.UK website. You can complete a Self Certification form yourself. However some employers insist on a Doctor's note regardless.
